REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

On the night of Sunday, August 25th, 1878, the vicinity of the town of San Mateo was the scene of the opening chapter of an unusualy fiendish attempt at murder, which continued in its ramifications for several days and finally culiminated in the death by his own hand of the would be murder. The first act of the tragedy occurred at what was then known as Miss Buckmaster's seminary, an institution of learning located near San Mateo, and the chief Actor was A. H. Mason, who was apparently urged to his inhuman acts by the promptings of unrequited love. Some months before the tragedy Mason and Miss Buckmastr had been married in the East, but seemingly the effection which prompted the union was rather short lived, for upon her return to San Mateo to resume charge of her school, Mrs. Mason refused to have any fnrther ihtercourse with her husbaud, and declined to allow him to live at the seminary. Upon the refusal of his wife to allow him to enter the home, Mason took up his residence at San Francisco. On the date of this occurrence Mason unexpedtedly made his appearance at the San Mateo Hotel, and after remaining about the house for a very short time, during which he managed to avoid conversation with any person, he went up to the bar and called for a drink, and after he had been served left the place without comment as to his destination or intention. Later developments indicated that in his crazed mind he had envolved a scheme of revenge worthy of a fiend. About midnight Mrs. Hanson was awakened from a sound slumber by the noise of a strange person in her room, and as she called out was seized in a strong grasp and pulled from her bed to the window and told to gaze upon the destruction of her place. By the light of the flames showing through the window she recognized her assailant as Moson, and that the gymasium and a cottage, two buildings near the main part of the seminary had been set on fire. Saying, "that ends all," Mason drew a revolver from his pocket and fired four shots at his wife, two of which inflicted slight wounds upon his wife. Mason then ran from the house and disappeared. As soon as possible Mrs. Mason gave alarm, but while the fire was confined to the buildings in which it was strated, these were entirely destroyed with their contents. A warrant for the arrest of Mason was placed in the hands of sherif Green, who went to San Franeisco in search of his man. No sign of Mason was found on Monday, but on Tuesday morning he was located at the Brooklyn Hotel by the San Francisco police. The officers attempted to force an entrance, but before this could be done Mason shot himself, inflicting a wound from the effects of which he died without recovering consciousness. Thus the tragedy ended with the death of its instigator, who had apparently hoped to end the life of his wife and conceal the evidence of the crine with the destruction of her body in the burning buildings.

On the 4th of October, 1878, members of Bay View Lodge of Odd fellows celebrated the sixteenth anniversity of the organization of the lodgs with public ceremonies. held in Germania Hall. These were attended by large delegations from each of the other four lodges of the district which were really regarded as offsprings of Bay View Lodge. The celebration consisted of a public procession and a program of literary exercises.

Among the notices published in the Times and Gazette of October 12th is found the following: "Born, at Redwood Farm, Thursday, Oetoder 10th, to the wife of P. H. McEvoy, a son."

CALIFORNIA PRUNE IS GREATEST TRAVELER

On the Bill of Fare Over 7,000 Miles Away From Here.

"The California prune is the greatest tourist in the world," remarked Brown, sitting at the family breakfast table and glancing enviously at his valise all covered with pasters of the European hotels and steamship lines.

"California prunes were on the table in the diner from Oakland Pier to New York, and on the cards of all the leading hotels of Chicago, Washington and New York. I had them every morning for breakfast on the big ocean liners all the way across the Atlantic, and when I breakfasted at the Cecil in London, the first and most conspicious thing on the bill of fare was California Prunes."

"California prunes in London," ejaculated Mrs. Brown, with surprise "How on earth do you suppose they got there? Why that is almost one-third of the distance around the world."

"Yes, it's a long distance from here, and moreover you may get a dish of them in London as cheaply as in San Francisco.

"But, my dear, I have heard you say the railroads charge such high rates that the producers couldn't afford to ship their stuff farther than a woman with a hobble skirt could make it in three jumps."

"Yes—from a mouse."

"You didn't say anything about a mouse."

"Well, I meant to. It makes some difference what a woman is jumping from, at or about. Bill Jones' wife jumped from a mouse the other day, and Bill says she circled the room three times every time she jumper."

"But there is a 7,000-mile gap between London and San Francisco.'

"Perhaps my comparison was rather ridiculous. When I was a boy and anything went wrong, I whipped my dog. Men are only boys grown up tall, and when we grow up, instead of whipping the dog, we whip the railroads. But I will admit that when I can go 7,000 miles away, across the Atlantic and buy a dish of California prunes for breakfast in London, Berlin and Paris as cheaply as in San Francisco or Los Angeles, freight rates haven't much to do with the price or cost of an article. I think, perhaps, if the curtain was pulled aside on the fellows who are howling about the freight rates, it would be found that they are doing it to cover up something else."

"But you howled as much as anybody."

"If I didn't, the fellow who paid me a profit of $7.00 on a suit of clothes would butt in and howl, too but against me. I beat him to it and he is satisfied to hear me cuss the railroads. It is an easy and quick way out of it, you know, and it's a scheme that works fine."

"But is it honest?"

"Please do not discuss a dealer's profits and moral ethics at the same time. They don't blend well."

"But honesty is the best policy."

"See here, give me something from Bacon, or Shakespear, or Bill Nye, but don't spring something that somebody said or concluded after he got caught. Besides, you are leading me away from the original subject. I was talking about California prunes, and what I wanted to remark was that as world-wide tourists and globe trotters, they thank the blue ribbon."

The Bachelor Club announces a play to be given the latter part of February. Something very thrilling is expected in the acting of the boys and no doubt they will play to a big house.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

The Register, a new weekly paper to be published at San Bruno, made its appearance last Sunday. The new paper appears to be well gotten up and and will be a credit to the community in which it is published. Judging from the contetts of the first number the Register intends to be a consistent and effective booster for its section, and should receive a hearty support.

Hon. Henry Ward Brown, Assemblyman from San Mateo county is certainly demonstrating that he is far from a figurehead in the Legislative halls at Sacramento. Although the session of the Legislature has but fairly commenced, he has introduced a number of well digested measures calculated to be of material benefit both to this county and to the state at large.

DESERVING OF SUPPORT.

South San Francisco is certainly demonstrating that there is a real lively community at the north end of the county. Already the people of that enterprising little city have commenced preparations for a general county celebration of the Fourth of July at that place.

In that laudable design the people of South San Francisco are certainly entitled to the support of Redwood City. We can do no less than return the compliment of the neighborly good feeling which they exhibited toward us a year ago. Even before the project for a celebration in this city had taken form, South San Francisco had preparations for a general celebration well under way. That they were thoroughly unselfish was demonstrated by the alacrity with which they fell into line with the designs of Redwood City and gave way to the plan for the monster observances with which we marked the completion of our magnificient new county building.

At this time there exists no good reason why we should not return this evidence of community interest and join with the people in the north end of the county in another popular demonstration. It has been demonstrated that the plan of union in public demonstrations of this character is a wise one and under present circumstances the north end of the county is the logical place for the holding of a joint celebration this year.

READY FOR MORE CITY IMPROVEMENTS

Way is Cleared for Building of New City Hall and Street Paving Work.

That there will be no further delay in the erection of the much-needed public building for Redwood City is now assured. The last obstacle in the way of the immediate preparation of plans for this important addition to the public buildings of the city was removed at the meeting of the City Council Monday evening with the presentation of deeds from the Trustees of the Redwood City School District to the city for portion of the old school grounds fronting on the extension of Phelps street to the City Council by Attorney Henry W. Walker, the legal representative of the school district.

All of the city trustees were presentexcept Trustee Beeger, and in spite of the stormy condition of the weather there was a goodly number of spectators at the meeting. The trustees evidenced no disposition to rush the matters and several important items of public interest were given consideration.

In denying the application of the proprietors of the Mayfield Bakery for a merchants license the Trustees went on record as determined to do all in their power for the protection of the home business men. For some time the proprietor of the Mayfield Bakery has made a pretense of establishing a local business by maintaining a pretended depot for the distribution of their products and have thus sought to avoid the payment of a peddler's license for their wagon engaged in the delivery of bread to patrons about town.In the inquiry following the application for a merchants license it was shown that the so-called agency consisted in the mere-at a private house, and that atly leaving of a few loaves of bread tempts made by people sent by Marshal Coleman for the purpose to purchase bread or other articles at the place designated had resulted in failure. On this showing it was decided by the Trustees that no legitimate showing of a home business had been made and the application for a merchant's license was denied

A resolution was adopted approving the plans and specifications of City Engineer Neuman for the improvement of streets in the new improvement district, number fifteen, the work to be done under the provisions of the local improvement act of 1901.

Attorney Henry W. Walker, as the legal representative of the trustees of Redwood City School District, presented to the council deeds to two parcels of land on the line of the Phelps street extension covering property desired by the council as a site for the new city hall and for right of way for the street. The property includes the old kindergarten site and the building located thereon, and named as the consideration the sum of $1200. This was the price which had been agreed upon as a just consideration and on motion of Trustee Hynding the deeds were accepted and a warrant drawn for the amount named.

With the site thus secured, there was an evident determination among the trustees to allow of no unnecessary delay in the erection of the building and thus secure proper offices for the transaction of the growing business of the city. Some little time was spent in a discussion of the law relating to preparing plans for the new building, during which it developed that several legal formalities were required. To solve the problem of law thus presented, a committee consisting of City Attorney Mansfield, Trustee Brown and City Expert Bruno Heyman was appointed to prepare a call for the submission of plans from architects.

An ordinance was given its first reading and introduction providing for the regulation of the building and conduct of sanitariums for the treatment of nervous and contagious diseases. The ordinance forbids the erection of hospitals of this character without permission of the council.

A resolution declaring the intention of the council to vacate portions of Davis, Cleveland, Blaine and Adams streets, north of Roosevelt avenue was adopted. These streets have in reality been closed for some time.

Chairman Merrill reported that he had purchased one dozen rubber coats for the use of the fire department in accordance with the authority given him at the last meeting.

Street Superintendent Dickey was instructed to investigate reports that certain portions of the surface of the roadway of Roosevelt avenue were being removed by neighboring property owners, and if necessary, to take steps to prevent further depredation of this character.

Robert Chatham presented an application for permission to remove garbage from the city under the provisions of the garbage ordinance. It appeared that the council had entered into a contract with G. J. Liguori by which he was given an exclusive right to this privilege, and under this showing it was considered that no other privilege could be granted and the application was returned without action.

Considerable time was given to a consideration of a report of City Expert Heyman on the problem of the storm sewers being constructed on the County Road. From the tenor of the report it was made evident that material changes in the plans would be necessary to insure the complete provision for the storm water overflow to which the western portion of the city would be subject in the event of excessive storms. The necessity for greater provision in this regard it appears was made apparent by the unusual rains of last week. This had demonstrated that the plan which had originally been adopted might prove insufficient to provide for excessive strains and it was considered unwise to risk a possible failure of the work. To provide against contingencies it was decided to authorize Expert Heyman to prepare modified plans which will be submitted to the contractors.

Fraternal Aid Installation.

The Fraternal Aid Association held its regular meeting Thursday evening, and installed the officers for the next six months. Despite the threatening weather the drill team and installing officer, Mr. Trousdale of Magnolia Council, No. 419, East San Jose, came up to install the officers. The floor work was much appreciated by the council. The newly installed officers are Pres., Emma Winter; past pres., C. F. Cook; vice pres., Selma Locker; sec. Martha George; Treasurer, M. E. Lanfear; trustee, F. E. George; chaplain, Lillian Hall; guide, Mary Winter; musician, Dolly Jamieson; observer, E. O. Rodes; sentinel, Hannah Sahlberg; cor. sec. Pearl George

After the business meeting the guests were invited into an adjoining room, where a tempting banquet had been made ready. After the guests had eaten to their content, dancing, card-playing, and games were indulged in until a late hour.

ENTERTAINING LETTER TRAVELER IN IRELAND.

P. J. Foley Writes of Impression of Visit to the Old Sod.

The following interesting letter has just been received by H. C. Tuchsen from P. J. Foley, who is at present enjoying an interesting visit to his old home in Ireland. While the communication was evidently intended by its writer as a purely personal communication, it contains so much of interest, especially to the many friends of Mr. Foley that Mr. Tuchsen has consented to its publication:

Dublin, January 10, 1911

Friend Tuchsen:

This is an near to Belfast as I have been since last you heard from me. I expect to see Sonency this evening. Putting it very mildly—I am having the time of my life.

The Ireland of today and the Ireland of my time are indeed very different, which makes me enjoy it the more. They don't want me to put up a cent—and that suits me to a T.

Well, how is everything? I suppose Mr. Marks is doning well in the lodging house. I am having some letters from home just now. They say everything is O. K. This city of Dublin is a very prteey place. Every thing is up to date.

Just imagine, I have gained eleven pounds since I landed. When I get back to California I will be as young as I used to be.

Everything in the south of Ireland is veryprosperous. The farmers are roing well and are contented. Everything is easy going, no rush.

It would be a very poor place here to go into the business of renting houses—I have not seen a vacant house in any city in Ireland. Let me know how things are getting along. Regards to all.

Yours as ever, P. J. Foley

NO REASON FOR IT
When Redwood City Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured.

Read what a Redwood City citizen says:

Fred Hassler, 101 Stambaugh St., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Knowing that difficulties of this kind often resulted seriously if allowed to go unchecked, I was anxions to get relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at P. A. Ryan's Drug Store, and their use completely removed the spmptoms of my trouble. In July, 1907, I publicly testified in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills and at this time I gladly confirm that statement. During the past two years, I have been free from kidney complaint. This fact justifies my speaking more highly than ever of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Dare You Throw Burning Coals On Your Roof

Burning coals thrown on a roof of Ruberoid harmlessly sputter away—and die out.

They do not set fire to the Ruberoid. They do not set fire to the timbers underneath.

Yet a roof of Ruberoid is more than mere protection against fire.

It is protection against the cold of winter. Being a perfect non-conductor of heat, it keeps the warmth of the house in.

It is protection against the heat of summer. It keeps the building cool by keeping the sun's heat out.

Seventeen Years of Test

And it is more. It is wind proof, rain proof, snow proof. It resists acids, gases, and fumes. Because of its great flexibility, it is proof against contraction, expansion, and the twisting strains which every roof must bear.

A roof of Ruberoid is practically a one-piece roof.

For with every roll comes the Ruberine cement with which you seal the seams and edges—seal them against the weather and against leaks. You will find many roofings which look like Ruberoid—but none which wear like Ruberoid.

For the first buildings ever roofed with Ruberoid—more than seventeen years ago—are still waterproof and weathertight.

These buildings are the oldest roofed with any ready roofing. Ruberoid was by several years the first.

And of more than 300 substitute roofings on sale today, not one can employ the vital element which makes Ruberoid roofing what it is.

This vital element is Ruberoid gum—made by an exclusive process.

It is this wonderful Ruberoid gum which gives Ruberoid roofing the life and flexibility to withstand seventeen years of wear where other roofings fray out in a few summers.

These substitute roofings are made to resemble only the uncolored Ruberoid.

Ruberoid can also be had in colors. It comes in attractive Red, Brown, and Green—suitable for the finest home.

The color is not painted on. It is a part of the roofing. It does not wear off or fade.
